“For years, FAST TRANSACT has been providing a wide range of merchant services to business owners, said David Solomon, CEO of Fast Transact, Inc. “Accepting credit cards is a great way to increase revenue, however some businesses might find it confusing as to what type of merchant account is needed or whether a gateway is required to process credit card payments. IncFile is processing hundreds of new accounts each month and we believe the alliance is a way for new corporations and LLCs to simplify their payment setup process.”

Nick Siha, owner and founder of IncFile.com, noted there are times when business incorporation can seem like a complex task. “It is imperative that the structuring be done correctly, as it can have a large impact on how a company secures legal protection, tax exemptions, obtains credit, or raises capital. As part of our ancillary and support services, we also provide Customized Corporate Kits, IRS filings, registered agent services, domain name registration and web hosting. Our goal is to help companies eliminate some of the guesswork for start-up services and our relationship with FAST TRANSACT will make the process a one-stop shop environment.”
